

ROB NESBITT

Rob Nesbitt is a self-professed numbers nerd who thinks spreadsheets are one of the top 5 inventions of all time. He grew up in Southern California and considers himself a lifelong Angels fan. While playing collegiate baseball at Cal Berkeley his greatest on-field memory is hitting a walk-off homerun. Rob's professional experience includes a variety of accounting and finance positions over the past 12+ years, from nonprofits to startup companies to CPA firms to Fortune 500 worldwide corporations. Earning his CPA license in 2016, Rob currently owns an accounting and consulting practice called RJ Beancounters, where he primarily serves nonprofit clients, including Lakeside Church in Folsom. Rob lives in Fair Oaks with his wife and 2 children. He is a novice guitarist and aspiring songwriter. In his spare time he enjoys woodworking, mountain biking, cooking, and exploring the great outdoors, especially the greater Lake Tahoe area.
